Remembering a friend

Rachael Spear and Steph Cirrigione releasing flowers into Lake Erie to honour their friend Reilly Anzovino last Saturday, after a bench was unveiled to commemorate the teen who died in a car accident on Boxing Day of last year. Later in the week, it was announced that an inquest into her tragic death will begin with a pre-hearing on Nov. 10, followed by the inquest process scheduled to start in February 2011. These dates are being considered tentative.

Inquest coming in February

Friends and family remember Reilly Anzovino on Saturday at memorial bench service

Kris Dubé
The Times

Since Boxing Day of last year, the Anzovino family has been searching for answers.

On Dec. 26 2009, the car Reilly Anzovino and her friend were travelling in, lost control on Hwy. 3 and collided with another vehicle. Anzovino did not survive the accident and was pronounced deceased before arriving at the Welland General Hospital. Immediately questions and concerns were raised about whether the teen would have survived if emergency rooms in Fort Erie and Port Colborne were still in operation at the time.

Friends and family share memories of Reilly

On Saturday, hundreds of friends and family gathered along Lakeshore Road to honour the young lady, through the unveiling of a bench dedicated to her name. At the time, her family was still waiting to hear if dates had been set for an inquest into her death to determine if hospital restructuring played a role.

"We really don't have all the answers yet and we want to know if it made a difference," said Reilly's mother, Tim Anzovino before the ceremony started.

He said the family supports Niagara Falls' MPP Kim Cattrio, the Yellow Shirt Brigade and the Town of Fort Erie in their efforts to provide answers to the family and appreciates everything that has been done up until now.

"We're behind them 100 per cent," he said.

The bench, that faces scenic Lake Erie is a place for those close to Reilly to be thankful for the person she was, said her father.

"That's what it's here for, so everyone can come and remember her," he said.

Reilly's mother, Denise

“It's something she would have wanted, she always brought people together and she still does even when she's not here.”

— Molly Parton

Kennedy, said the support they have seen from the community and Reilly's friends from the tragic incident has been a real "eye opener."

"It's really taught me how to be a better person for other people who have had a loss and we're thankful for them," she said.

"Her friends have been a huge support, as well as the community," added Kennedy.

One of Reilly's close friends, Molly Parton, said it was very emotional to see how many people attended the ceremony and feels the thoughts and prayers of others is something Reilly would be very proud of.

"It's something she would have wanted, she always brought people together and she still does even when she's not here," said Parton.

At the bench unveiling, friends shared memories of the teen, performed songs and recited poetry.

Later in the week, the family was provided with a little more closure, finding out that the inquest into her death will begin on Nov. 10 at Town Hall with a pre-hearing. This will be followed by the inquest itself, expected to begin some time in February 2011.

On Thursday, mayor Doug Martin said the Town of Fort

Erie will seek standing in the inquest, allowing them to call witnesses and to be a part of the process.

"We've clearly indicated since the time of the notification there would be an inquest, that we want to be a part of this," said Martin.

He said the inquest will hopefully provide closure for Reilly's friends and family, but also for the people of Fort Erie and Port Colborne who no longer have emergency rooms at their local hospitals and want to know if the outcome would have been any different.

"I think the family needs to know and the people need to know," said Martin.

Fall Festival fun for everyone

➤ Event runs on final day of Farmer's Market in downtown Ridgeway

Marc MacDonald
The Times

Those young and old flocked to the Friendship Trail parking lot on Ridge Road on Saturday, all taking part in the Ridgeway Fall Festival.

With plenty of vendors selling everything from arts and crafts to delicious treats, residents had an opportunity to enjoy the last farmer's market of the season while gaining a sense of community.

"The whole reason we created the farmer's market in the first place was to give our community a heart and give a place the community can gather every Saturday morning," said Karin DiBlase, organizer of the farmer's market.

"We have so many small businesses and local growers and operators and we wanted to show them that we support them. Everyone you see here is local."

With blue skies and sunshine, it could not have been a better day for the festival, a welcome change from years prior.

"The last two years we got rained out for our Fall Festival," said DiBlase glancing up at the sunny skies with a smile.

"This has been the most glorious day, it's Thanksgiving weekend, we couldn't ask for anything better."

For the kids, there was a pumpkin carving contest that judges graded based on various age categories, with every pumpkin leaving the tents in the arms of its carver.

With all the events that were offered, DiBlase hopes the event will continue to grow and draw larger crowds each year, all while keeping a local flavour.

"We have the music, we have food, we have Halloween cookies, these are all being made right here in our community and the kids have had a great time," said DiBlase.

"Next year we're going to be even bigger and better and we're thinking of next year

Next year, we're going to be even bigger and better.”

— Karin DiBlase

having farmer's bring in their pumpkins and have a contest for biggest pumpkin."

Despite the construction that has been ongoing on Ridge Road, plenty of people showed up to the festival, keeping the trend that existed during the farmer's market... construction won't stop them.

Hundreds race in Crystal Beach

Organizer estimates participants travelled from about 50 municipalities in Canada and U.S.

On Saturday, Oct. 9 the Friends of Crystal Beach held their sixth annual 5K run/walk and saw their biggest turnout to date.

With an estimated 350-400 people, the race was a rousing success, both for the adults and the kids who participated.

Kicking off at around 10:30 a.m., kids lined up at the starting line to participate in a 600 metre race, running out 300 metres and turning and coming back to have the starting line act as the finishing line.

When the adults took to the starting line it was anticipated that the line would be across the line would be back in about 18 minutes.

This year, however, Joseph Hughes - last year's first runner to cross the line - was the first back once again, this time with a time of 16:56, trimming over a minute off his time from last year.

The first female to cross the line this year was Amanda McLeod, who finished with a final time of 17:58.

Race co-ordinator Phil Smith said last weekend's run is proof the event continues to grow year after year, considering he estimates about 50 municipalities from both sides of the border were represented.

He said this is a great opportunity to remind people how great of a place Crystal Beach can be.

"That's one of the reasons we do it, to re-introduce people to the area," said Smith. He also attributes the sunny skies and mild temperature as contributors to the event's turnout.

"It was a big success and the weather was perfect," said Smith.

Amanda McLeod was the first female runner to cross that finish line with a time of 17:58.

Hearing & Hearing Clinics

GROWING POSSIBILITY

It is estimated that one-third of adults over the age of 65 experience hearing loss due to the destruction of "hair cells" in the inner ear, which convert sound vibrations into electrical energy that is transmitted to the brain. When these hair cells are lost or damaged due to long-term exposure to loud noise and other causes, they cannot regenerate, and permanent hearing loss results. However, scientists have recently reported that they have made great strides in deafness research by creating hair cells in the laboratory. They did so by combining embryonic stem cells with fibroblasts (cells found in connective tissue). It is hoped that this breakthrough will one day lead to the creation of hair cells for humans.

If you're tired just about everything to deal with your hearing loss—showing, turning up the volume, avoiding conversation, and withdrawing from social situations—now try an audiologist. At Hearing & Hearing Clinics, we have extensive training and skills that enable us to understand and diagnose your loss, state-of-the-art testing facilities, and the very latest in hearing instruments to correct your impairment. Take the first positive step to better hearing. Call us at 905-671-4242 to schedule a hearing test at 600 Garrison Drive, Unit 12. Office hours are M-F: 9am to 5pm. Please visit our website at www.hearingclinics.ca.

Vote MIKE KAMATOVIC PUBLIC SCHOOL TRUSTEE

By choosing a School Trustee, you want someone that is a good fit for the communities they represent. Myself along with my wife (Dr. Kamatovic), have fought and will continue to fight to save the Emergency Rooms in Fort Erie and Port Colborne. I don't want to see these communities suffer with further issues to their Secondary Schools. I am running to PROTECT and PROMOTE our community schools. Currently we have to look at closure of and re-organization and there are several options. School closures are traumatic, leaving apart a community, leaving doors, long-hauling cars. Everyone wants school closures to be a bad thing, but it's a reality. I want to ensure that I can reduce the property value and stability of your home. Living families in your area leaves a huge hole in the neighbourhood. (EMAIL: MIKE@MIKEKAMATOVIC.COM)

I am a SENIOR ASSOCIATE for a new transparent and accountable system that respects the public and students much more than it does now. While there are many SENR accounts, a fresh mindset has to change from the old guard who has served in Fort Erie/Fort Colborne for years.

Paying it forward a great initiative

It isn't very often you hear about anyone giving away free money, especially a financial institution.

Referring to the story our readers will see on page nine of this week's issue, we couldn't help but comment on what an excellent venture the local Credit Unions are undertaking, with the "Ripple Effect" program, an initiative designed to inspire others to "pay it forward" and give back to the community in some way, whether it's taking the $10 they will be given and putting towards a donation to a charity or helping a neighbour bring in their groceries or shovel their driveway.

Well, let's hope we don't have to see the second suggested favour for another couple of months.

This campaign will hopefully be a success for the Credit Union, but can also be an eye opener for clients who wouldn't normally go out of their way to help someone in need.

Perhaps it will make people sit back and say to themselves, "maybe I need to be a little more friendly to others."

This has the potential to be a good start for those who fit into that category.

-Kris Dubé

Do You Remember?

Thanks to Wendy Wilson and Mary Mewha we got full identification for last week's photo taken at Rio Vista golf course. L-R: Ray Dodds, Wendy Clendenning (Wilson) and Mary Mewha.

Mary donated the trophy which is being presented to the 1976 ladies golf champion, Wendy Clendenning.

This week's photo has a date, 1977 and one name on the back, John Swanigan.

Does anyone know who the other people are and why they had their picture in the paper?

Please call the museum at (905) 894-5322 or you can send an email to museum@forterie.on.ca.

Editor has something else to look forward to on election day

Kris Dubé
Editor's Notebook

I dropped out of the broadcast journalism program because I didn't like the pressure of being on camera.

Before I graduated from Niagara College after two years in its print program, I did have a brief stint with TV news, as I mentioned in the lead to this column. As I also said, it wasn't for me.

But this week, I kind of gave it another shot.

At Tuesday night's council meeting, I was approached by a producer and camera operator for our area's cable access channel Cogeco, who I often shoot the breeze with every other week when the cameras are rolling inside the council chambers.

He asked me if I would be interested in going on the record to discuss what issues voters will be paying attention to when they hit the polls on Oct. 25.

The Crystal Beach

Gateway Project, the Canadian Motor Speedway, basement flooding, new business, health care and tourism I said will likely be the five biggest concerns on residents' minds leading up to the election.

I'm giving myself a passing grade, but am sure there is room for improvement.

I didn't say anything

I'm going to regret, that's not what I mean.

I'm just hoping I didn't sound like that guy from the Micro Machines commercials, as I tend to speak at faster rate, I've been told at times.

When the interview wrapped up at my office, I was glad to get it out of the way, but also appreciative of the fact that another media outlet came to us to improve their broadcast.

It was a good experience and now all I can do is wait and hope that my office didn't look too untidy and that I didn't have anything stuck in my teeth.

If you would like to leave me feedback, call me at (905) 871-3100 ext. 207 or you can send me an email to editorial@forterietimes.com.

Celebrate the 'wins' at DMH, says reader

Dear Editor,

It is just me or are other people tired of the Yellow Shirt Brigade's weekly tirades in the local papers? I have been a member of the DMH board of directors and subsequently the DMH standing committee since 1996. I know what services we had then and I know what services we have now.

Do we have the hospital I want within a five-minute drive of my home? Heck No. I want Toronto Sick Kids/The Jurvisnick Cancer Center and the Ottawa Heart Institute all on Bertie Street. I know though, that I choose to live in Fort Erie and that communities small and large all over Canada are competing for the same limited funding and health care professionals.

A recent Yellow shirt letter referring to our local doctors treated trauma. We have wonderful dedicated physicians in Fort Erie but to the best of my knowledge none of them are trauma surgeons and trauma surgery has never been performed at DMH.

As much as I would like to point out countless other misleading statements of the Yellow shirts which in my opinion are nothing but fear mongering and contribute nothing to the endeavor to retain, regain and expand services, this letter is meant to highlight the good things happening at DMH.

When it comes to a 24-hour urgent care centre, the use it or lose it message seems to have gotten through with recent daily average visits to DMH's urgent care centre equal and sometimes exceeding the numbers seen in the former "ER". This is good because the more people use the UCC's the less stress on the ER's in the region.

Consolidation of beds and offices: A refurbishing of the first floor to accommodate all patient beds and move all offices currently in former patient rooms is in the formal planning stage. The cost is estimated approximately $200,000. The funding for this must come from donations. Donations in Fort Erie have slowed possibly due to misinformation. Part of the process is a new sunroom which will be funded by the DMH Foundation and Auxiliary who have never stalled their great work in the face of restructuring. Please don't lose trust in either the Auxiliary or the Foundation. We need them, and they need your continued support.

Palliative care at DMH is better than ever with the dedication of great physicians and nursing staff. Palliative care and hospice beds in the region are limited and as many unfortunately know watching your loved one pass in a crowded oncology unit is not the optimum end of life situation. Our DMH site Palliative Care Director recently applied for and received funding from the Rankin Run for new palliative care equipment which is on order.

Funding is in place for an Energy Retrofit at DMH in the amount of $1.1 million. This is evidence of the long term use of the facility and efforts to save money on utilities which can be better used on core services.

The LHIN has chosen Fort Erie to pilot the Triple Aim project. This is a Chronic Disease Prevention and Management program. More information on this initiative will be communicated in the near future.

Four surgeons from Welland started seeing Fort Erie patients at DMH twice a month on the referral from local doctors for elective assessments and surgeries such as colonoscopy and gallbladder problems. This means that while the surgery is ultimately performed in Welland you won't have to drive to these doctors' offices for the surgical consultation.

These are just a few of the good things happening at DMH.

The endeavor to retain, regain and expand services at DMH must be taken through the proper provincial political/governmental channels in a clear headed business like manner not with the emotional rants of a group with no formal mandate from the citizens of Fort Erie.

Fort Erie needs a change

Dear Editor,

As a longtime resident of Fort Erie I urge my fellow citizens to use their vote on election day to change the old guard at Town Hall.

For far too long our community has suffered at the hands of the Old Boy Network which has continued to pass the baton of leadership from one to the other.

As a result of their lack of leadership and their inability to think outside the box, our community has become the laughing stock of the Niagara Region.

We have earned undeserved nicknames such as "Fort Dreary" and the "Armpit of Niagara" to name a few. This longtime lack of leadership and new ideas has led to loss of jobs, business closures and entrepreneurs leaving town for greener pastures.

The Old Boy Network and their adherents are perfectly happy to do business at the same old stand and see no reason for change.

As a result of their monopoly on leadership our community continues to stagnate. It is time now for the voters to rise up and use the power of their vote in order to rid our community of the Old Boy Network and replace them with real leaders.

It is time for for the three C's... compassion, concern and competence. It is finally time for the electorate to "shatter the glass ceiling" and make enough noise on election day to affect the change that is so sorely needed by this community. Please remember that your vote is your power to effect that change.

Paying it forward

➤ Local Credit Unions taking on unique venture, where everyone can benefit

Have you ever heard of a financial institution giving away money?

Probably not, until Oct. 21 when both local Credit Union branches will be giving clients $10, hoping they will donate it back to a worthy cause in the community or use it as incentive to do provide a favour to someone else.

The purpose of the program is to inspire individuals to "pay it forward" back to the community and encourages people to go out of their way to do something nice for another person.

"With Fort Erie's enthusiasm, this can grow into a movement that touches people far beyond our borders," said Fort Erie Credit Union chief executive officer Rebecca Havill.

The program has been given the name of the "Ripple Effect", co-ordinated by local marketing expert John Young.

Credit Union Day is Oct. 21, the kickoff for this initiative. Along with the $10, "pass-it-along cards" will be handed out to clients, to help spread the word about the venture.

Fort Erie Credit Union chief executive officer Rebecca Havill, left, member service representative Tami Johnsen and marketing chair Karen Stewart are getting ready for the Ripple Effect initiative being undertaken by the local financial institution. On Oct. 21, clients will be given a $10 bill, and will be required to provide a favour for someone or donate to a charity.

Hudak gears up for provincial election

Kris Dubé
 The Times

Tim Hudak says there is an "appetite for change" across the province.

Recently, the Ontario PC leader and Fort Erie native spoke to the Times and provided the message he will be carrying into the next provincial election—that Dalton McGuinty's government has taxed people more than they can afford.

He has also been critical of Local Health Integration Networks, saying they need to be eliminated. Earlier this year, Hudak visited the Douglas Memorial Hospital and told those in attendance, along with members of the media he will have the emergency room at Douglas Memorial Hospital re-opened if he is elected premier.

"One year from now, Ontario families will face a very clear choice," he said.

He is also enthusiastic about all three candidates running for the party's nomination to represent Fort Erie, Niagara Falls and Niagara-on-the-Lake.

"We have three strong candidates," said Hudak.

 One year from now, Ontario families will face a very clear choice.”

— Tim Hudak

Running for that position is current councillor for Ward 1 Sandy Annunziatti and Arlene White, executive director of the Binational Tourism Alliance, both of whom are Fort Erie residents. Also vying for the same nomination is George Lepp, of Niagara-on-the-Lake. The PC party will vote for its candidate on Nov. 23 and all Ontario voters will head to the polls for the election on Oct. 6, 2011.

On Thursday, Hudak also released a statement on the further details released about an inquest into the death of Reilly Anzovino.

"I am pleased that the Anzovino family finally has a firm timetable to receive answers on the tragic and untimely death of their daughter, Reilly," he said.

RE-ELECT OUR MAYOR DOUG MARTIN

Your Taxes

FICTION

Mayor Martin is solely responsible for increasing taxes

Individual household taxes were increased by 30 percent

The Town was secure and its needs were being met without increased taxation

FACT

The 2007-2010 Budget was created by Council's Budget Committee. After much deliberation, the majority of council voted to approve the budget.

Five in favour - Two in opposition

Town taxes are only 30 percent of your total tax bill. Individual households experienced, on average, an increase of $2.50 to $3.00 a month. Check your tax bill or visit the town's website - www.town.forterie.ca

The mayor and the majority of council chose to cease the utilization of Gaming revenue to offset tax increases. They chose instead to invest in town projects and the road to economic recovery.

ELECTION 2010

Ward Three Candidates • Bob Steckley • Kimberly Zanko

Ward Four Candidates • John Hill • Tim Whitfield

Re-Elect BOB STECKLEY Councillor - Ward 3

Let me continue to be your STRONG VOICE at Town Hall!

Basement Flooding

Since being elected in 2006 I have been a strong voice for infrastructure investment to help alleviate basement and surface flooding. The North Crescent Park Storm Sewer project, the Frenchman's Creek Trunk sewer project, and the extraordinary flow home inspection program have had my full support and these programs have already or will benefit Crescent Park or are completed.

Although I still have basement flooding on occasion, I believe we are making significant headway on this issue and we need to keep this momentum going and work away at the drainage issues year by year.

Budgets

My opponent says it is irresponsible to vote against a budget. Voting against a budget doesn't mean you are opposed to everything in that budget. I have voted against a budget because I believe it is irresponsible to vote in favour of a budget that asks for an unrealistic tax increase, and I don't feel that we had done enough to look for savings and efficiencies.

If a budget is defeated by a majority of council it is up to that council to report at that budget and come up with one that the majority can support.

Taxation

I'm a long time business owner and need to work within a budget that is attainable from my yearly sales. At the end of the year I don't have enough money to buy a new vehicle or take a vacation I can't just go back to my customers and ask for more money - I live within my means.

Town Hall should be no different - they need to work within a budget that is attainable from the taxpayer. I will continue to advocate for an independent operational review of certain town departments to ensure that they are being run efficiently and effectively and that your tax dollars are being spent wisely.

VOTE LARRY GRABER
COUNCILLOR FOR WARD 6

Black Creek/Douglstown/Snyder/Stevensville
As I travelled throughout Ward 6, residents told me the issues that affect them include the need to lower taxes, having public transit go to the retirement community, the poor conditions of some of the roads, a satellite firehall for Black Creek, a streetlight at the corner of Netherby and the Niagara Parkway and a waste treatment plant to get rid of the lagoons. Other concerns were raised as well but these were the issues with many residents.

The Town of Fort Erie has issues affecting all citizens such as having our hospital with a fully equipped emergency room and day surgery capabilities, the high cost of utilities, industrial land availability, the need for new firehalls, the future of the live horse racing track, how to replace the Kinsmen Pool, the motor speedway project, Bay Beach development and unrestricted access to the Point Abino lighthouse to name but a few and in no particular order. Jobs need to be created to keep our tradespeople and our youth employed.

LARRY GRABER is ready, willing and able to champion the issues in Ward 6 and to deal with the broader issues. He will ensure he is fully aware of the relevant information and viewpoints of all citizens to make the best, most educated decisions.

*On October 25, 2010 I ask for your support to make Fort Erie the best it can be by voting LARRY GRABER as your Councillor for Ward 6

Stevensville pooch at the top of her game

Kris Dubé
The Times

A local canine continues to be someone dog obedience enthusiasts are excited to shake paws with.

Passion, a nine-and-a-half-year-old Belgian Tervuren has taken the Canadian obedience showing world by storm over recent years and is currently ranked third in overall points with the Canadian Kennel Club (CKC).

Ikena Hilmyer and her husband Jerry Burke have competed in dozens of obedience competitions with both Passion and their smaller dog Levi, who is of the Schipperke breed. Levi has placed in several events also, but this year is shaping up to be Passion's like both agree.

"She's like a legend when she shows up," said Hilmyer, referring to the publicity the lovable pooch has received through her status with the CKC and being a poster dog on Purina's website.

She was also featured on the front cover of a recent issue of Dogs in Canada, a magazine published by the CKC where her story as a re-home dog is told.

"Everybody wants to meet and greet her," added Hilmyer.

Hilmyer said there is a big difference between "rescue" and "re-home" dogs. A rescue dog is often put into a loving home after spending time at the SPCA or humane society, whereas a re-home dog is given a second chance with new owners after being returned to the breeder it left before entering the real world.

At first, Hilmyer and Burke were skeptical about whether Passion would be able to perform at a top level after her early experiences in life, but in the end she has exceeded all expectations.

"I thought maybe I had bit off more than I can chew," laughed Hilmyer.

In recent years, she has won the Purina national competition three times and has taken the top spot at the Hit of Hits obedience trials four times, placing second at the most recent showing.

"When I started, all I wanted was a participant ribbon," chuckled Hilmyer.

Burke said they are extremely proud of all the awards Passion has brought home, knowing there aren't too many other owners in the obedience competition circuit who can share the same accomplishments.

"There is no other dog that has done all of this," he said.

Last year, after winning the Hit of Hits competition, Hilmyer said it might be time for Passion to hang up her leash and retire into a relaxing life at her home in Stevensville, but it didn't happen.

She is as enthusiastic about competing as her owners and doesn't seem to be losing interest anytime soon.

"She's at the top of her game right now," said Hilmyer.

Burke agreed, noting that every time they bring her out side for exercise or put her in the car, she puts her game face on and is ready to compete, even if they are just going for a walk around the block.

"Every time she goes out the door, she thinks she's going to a dog show," said Burke.

Closing out the season, Passion has between ten and 15 more competitions to collect more points.

Ikena Hilmyer, going through drills with her award-winning Belgian Tervuren named Passion, who is ranked third in points for all of Canada in obedience competitions.

Novelist to share her story at bookstore today

Ridgeway author says storytelling helped shape her life

Kris Dubé
The Times

“It’s a natural force for me to say ‘well, you know what happened to me one time.’”

—Lynne Sherry McLean

Lynne Sherry McLean is thankful for the stories she was told when she was young.

She spent a lot of time with her elders, but mostly her grandmother, who McLean’s recently published novel Where Mary Went is loosely based on.

When McLean was 20 years old, she accompanied her grandmother to a “reunion” at what she was told was an orphanage, not knowing it was a residential school, where many aboriginal people were abused and conditioned to fit a more mainstream lifestyle.

As soon as they arrived, McLean instantly began questioning her grandmother’s childhood because of the atmosphere at the gathering, having no prior knowledge of what her family went through.

“The room was full of people and no one was talking,” she said. It was at that moment that she knew it was time to hear more about what the elder generations of her family endured, which is also an inspiration for her first novel, which McLean will be signing today at the From Cover to Cover Bookstore in Ridgeway at 1 p.m.

Spending a lot of time with her elders

ers as a young girl and well into adulthood, McLean stressed the importance of storytelling and how it can apply to so many aspects of everyday on so many levels.

If she is having a discussion with one of her three children, at times she can use a story from her past as an example, or one she was told by somebody else.

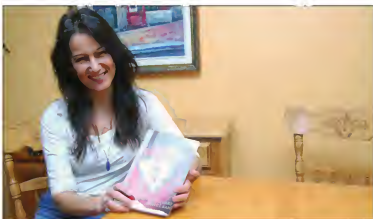

“It’s a natural force for me to say, ‘well you know what happened to me one time,’ she said.

Although her grandmother

er is one of her biggest inspirations for the book, she says it is a “book about everyone’s grandmother.”

“But many of the stories she told are in it,” she added.

McLean is a social worker with the Niagara Region, a status band member of the Six Nations of the Grand River and has even earned a black belt in karate.

Lynne Sherry McLean, will be promoting her novel Where Mary Went, today at the From Cover to Cover Bookstore on Ridgeway.

Meteors still looking for first win of season

Kris Dubé
The Times

The Fort Erie Junior B Meteors are still searching for their first win.

After a narrow 3-2 loss against the Lambton Shores Predator last Sunday and a 11-0 blowout suffered against the Niagara Falls Canucks on Friday, the Meteors were hoping for a better result when they faced the first place Thorold Blackhawks on Wednesday.

The Mets held their own in the first frame of the match, sitting with an even 1-1 score after 20 minutes.

In the second period, things took a turn for the worse, says general manager Tony Passero.

"We fell asleep for about three-and-a-half minutes and we were down 5-1," he said.

After 40 minutes, the Meteors trimmed the deficit down to only three goals and went into the third down 6-3.

Hoping to capitalize on the powerplay and making it 6-4 the Meteors were unable to find the back of the net and instead Thorold scored a short-handed goal, putting the game on ice and eventually winning 7-4.

Passero said the team needs better control, considering they racked up 42 penalty minutes with 21 offences.

The Meteors also took five high-sticking penalties in a row, something Passero said can't happen if the team wants to earn its first win any time soon.

"You can't win when you do that," he said.

The Meteors were shut out 49 to 25 in the contest and are still sitting without a win after ten games.

Tonight, the Meteors face off against the Wheatfield Jr. Blades at the Leisureplex. Game time is 7:15 p.m.

Pee Wee Champs

The Fort Erie Major PeeWee team brought home the top spot from the Three Rivers Tournament, held in Pittsburgh, PA last weekend, defeating the Aurora Tigers in the final game by a close score of 3-2. Team members are Nicholas Grigorov, Richard Haynes, Kieran Hixles, Matthew Kriger, Jake Kuderian, Hunter McKnight, Caden Moore, Chris Palumbo, Nicholas Polinski, Sebastian Rancourt, Hunter Ryan, Justin Schulz, Matthew Toppazzini, Stephen Tykolski and Trey Whitwell.

The Fort Erie Senior Cannons

The Fort Erie Senior Cannons enjoyed their first season of their brief existence in 2010 finishing 3rd in the league with a 15-7 record only 1 game behind the first place Rose City Thorns. The Cannons were the only team in the league to win an open tournament going undefeated (5-0) in Niagara Falls in the annual Bruno LeBlanc memorial. Although playing some tough ball in the playoffs Cannons were narrowly defeated 7-6 to the eventual champs West Niagara Warriors and lost 2-0 to their nemesis from Welland the Thorns.

At this time the team would like to thank our many loyal fans, the Parks and Recreation department and the following sponsors that help keep baseball alive in our fine town of Fort Erie.

Blue Devils even with 2-2 record

The Ridgeway-Crystal Beach High School (RCBHS) Blue Devils football team is at an even 500 average, with a 2-2 record.

After Thursday's 12-6 loss to South Lincoln, the local gridiron gang has only one contest remaining in the regular season, a game against Eastdale next Friday on the road.

Regardless of the result of that match, the Blue Devils will be studying the play-book a little more intensely, as it will be time to get ready for the postseason.

Head coach Calvin Nigh said he is very proud of how the team has worked together its in comeback season, the first in 36 years at RCBHS.

Hard work from all seven coaches and the team roster, along with the support of the community has made the year memorable already.

"That says it all," he said. Going back to Thursday's game, Nigh said sloppy field conditions and weather contributed to the low score and the fact that each team had to punt the ball away about 15 times.

"It was a messy, rainy day," he said.

The only scoring for the Blue Devils came from a 30-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Matt Woehl to receiver Gabe Elijah.

Running one in

Fort Erie Falcons quarterback Shaheim takes the ball into the end zone during the team's 47-6 win against Stoney Creek on Tuesday. Full back John Greer helped out with some crucial blocks.

Deaths

SHERGOLD, Jane Robinson - Jane passed away at Greater Niagara General Hospital on Thursday, October 7, 2010 at her 83rd year. She was the proud mother of Brent (Laura Heston), Jenny (Kylie Mestler) and Kirk (Faith), all of the Niagara region, and her step-daughter, L. A. Shergold. Cherished grandmother of Evan and Emma. She is survived by her sister Nan Abbott (Fred DeVanter), of Buffalo, NY, and brother Mark Robinson (Connie Kirchhoff), of Lockport, NY, as well as her former husband George Shergold. Predeceased by her parents, William and Eleanor (Miller) Robinson, of Lockport. A talented vocalist, Jane performed as a soloist with many community choirs, as well as the Buffalo Philharmonic Chorus. Her strength and her sense of humour gave inspiration to those who witnessed her 30-year journey through Multiple Sclerosis. Jane would have wished for donations in her memory to the MS Society, Niagara Peninsula Chapter of Hope. A service at Trinity Lutheran Church, 171 Berrie St., Fort Erie, will be open to all on Saturday, October 16, 11 am.

Card of thanks

REETA PARRY

In loving memory of a wonderful Mom and Grandma, who passed away October 19, 2008.

If Roses grow in Heaven
Lord please pick a bunch for us
Place them in our Mother's arms
And tell her they're from us
Tell her we love her and miss her
And when she turns to smile
Place a kiss upon her cheek
And hold her for awhile.
Because loving her is easy.

We do it every day
But there's an ache within our hearts
Because we are missing her today.
Sadly missed and always remembered,
Linda, Pat, Sharon, Jim, Brett, Kevin, Jana,
Tim, Darin, James, Tammie, Bill & Aegan

Heaven's gate swung gently open,
The Master called softly, "Come,"
And you, dear one, took the Master's hand,
And your work on earth was done.
We'll never cease to miss you,
And shed many silent tears,
Because we cannot share with you
Our hopes, our joys, our faith.
But one day, in God's garden,
When the Master calls us to come,
You'll be at the gates with open arms
And say to us, "Welcome Home!"

BROWN, Vera - In loving memory of the BEST MOM & NANNY ever who left us 1 year ago today. Oct 16, 2009.

You can only have one mother
Patient kind and true
No other friend in all the world
Will be the same to you.

When other friends forsake you,
To mother you will return
For all her loving kindness,
She asks nothing in return.

We look upon her picture,
Sweet memories we recall,
Of a face so full of sunshine,
And a smile for one and all.
Sweet Jesus, take this message,
To our dear mother up above;
Till her how we miss her,
And give her all our love.

You will always be in our hearts, we love you & miss you so much. Connie, Carrie, Kim,
Dale, Tara, Shelby, Ross & Brandon xxoxo.

Show everyone your appreciation.

Local murder mystery coming to town

Community Living needs support of community for annual fundraiser

Kris Dubé
The Times

It's no mystery that Community Living Fort Erie is always in need of support from local businesses and individuals.

That's why the non-profit organization is calling for donations and sponsors to make their annual fundraiser a success.

This year, a murder mystery will be performed by Community Living clients and other actors recruited from local theatre groups.

The title of the production is The Holidays are Murder This Year and will be performed at the Crystal Ridge Community Centre on Dec. 4, the 7th annual fundraiser for the organization, that exists to promote inclusion and to ensure people with intellectual challenges have their rights and privileges upheld.

What makes the play extra special is that is set in Greater Fort Erie and is filled with many local references to people, landmarks and establishments, explained Vince Marinaccio, who is a drama teacher at Fort Erie Secondary School and active member of Garrison Little Theatre.

"It's a great script, very funny," he said.

Community Living Fort Erie hopes the community will support this worthwhile event through sponsorships of a corporate table for $250, which includes four tickets for the show and dinner.

Individual tickets are also available.

For more information, contact Margaret Field at (905) 871-6770 ext. 239.

Brian Coatsworth, left, Bill Wilson, Shari Houser, Community Living executive director Maureen Brown and Vince Marinaccio going over the script for an upcoming production to benefit the local non-profit organization.

November 11 is a day we remember.

Take this opportunity to remember all the men and women who have served, and continue to serve our country during war, conflict and peace. Submit a photo of your hero who has served or is serving to be a part of our upcoming Remembrance Day feature.

Please submit photos to: mrobertson@forterietimes.com or call for more information 905-871-3100 ext. 202.

Bricks & Bouquets

If you have a brick or bouquet send it to editorial@forterietimes.com or phone 905-871-3100, ext. 210 and leave a message

Bouquet

To the woman on College Road for finding our dog and returning him home to us.

Brick

To the driver of the motor home that ran my little friend over my dog on Black Creek Road and didn't have the courtesy to stop! Shame on yourself.

Bouquet

To people who donate to local charities. This is an old message that is regularly expressed, but only because it is so important.

Brick

To the lady who insisted that she should be served before me when we basically arrived at the checkout of a local grocery store at the same time. All I had was a case of water and you probably had stores, the tie should go to the person with the least items.

Bouquet

To members of local sports teams who are thankful to do something they love and get some exercise at the same time.

Brick

To hockey parents that take the enjoyment completely out of the game for their children. Just because you weren't any good when you played as a child, there is no reason to take it out on your kids and live your fantasies of victory through them.

Bouquet

To people who don't think twice about holding a door open for someone. This is perhaps the most classic act of politeness and kindness anyone can do. It almost $80 in groceries, really says a lot about your character. Just hold the door open, OK?
